An Exhibition of Pruning and Spraying Trees—General Notes.

Seneca, Feb. 11.—Special: Mr. McSweeney, a student from the Presbyterian Seminary at Columbia, filled the pulpit of the Presbyterian church here last Sunday, preaching again at the union service at the Baptist church at night.

On next Saturday at 2 o'clock M. Stokes Stribling will have a demonstration of tree pruning at his residence near town. Prof. Conrad, of Clemson College, assisted by Profs. Clark and Barr, will conduct the demonstration. Spraying for insects will also be demonstrated. Those interested in these demonstrations will have an opportunity to witness it by going out to Mr. Stribling's residence.

Miss Stella Fincannon left Thursday for Atlanta to purchase and study spring millinery. Mrs. Hopkins preceded her, and they will purchase a handsome line of millinery for the Easter trade, which comes so early this year that milliners are going out earlier.

Miss Margaret Morrison spent the week-end with homefolks at Clemson. She was accompanied by Miss Florence Reid.

Charles Stribling witnessed the foot ball and basket ball games at Clemson Saturday.

At the meeting of the presidents of the various Presbyterian Unions in South Carolina at Columbia last Thursday, the Synodical Union was formed, with Mrs. J. O. Reeves, of Columbia, as president; Mrs. R. G. Pearson, corresponding secretary; A. Young, lady from the Young Women's Missionary Society of Columbia, with the two first named, will constitute the executive committee. The first meeting of the Synodical will be held with the Bennettsville church in October, when full organization will be perfected, the present officers being only provisional. The meeting in Columbia was harmonious and delightful and marks the beginning of thorough organization of women's work in South Carolina.

Oscar Doyle visited the corn show last week and visited his dear friend, Charley Byrd, who is in Carolina University there.

The infant son of Dr. and Mrs. D. P. Thomson, who has been quite sick with pneumonia, is better.

R. Anderson is opening up his business here, and his friends are giving him the glad hand after an absence of several months from Seneca.

On next Friday evening at the auditorium the preliminary contest will be held when a selection will be made from three speakers for the oratorical contest to be held in Westminster. Willie Verner, Horace Wood and Glimmer Hubbard are the students who will speak for the place.

Miss Pearle Verner, of Richland, is in Seneca nursing the baby boy of Dr. and Mrs. D. P. Thomson.

Mrs. G. W. Ballenger, who has been in Baltimore for treatment, is expected home on Wednesday of this week.
